The unexpected is happening. New sidewalks are being built on Military street—in some places. The city council gave promise of ordering some new walks made, but aside from talking the matter over, and drafting an ordinance on which action has not been taken, nothing has been done. A. D. C. Harvey and Mrs. W. H. Hornor, however, have set the pace, and we hope others will follow. J. W. McClung has been given a contract to put in nice concrete walks in front of Harvey's furniture store, and also in front of Mrs. Hornor's buildings, occupied by the Gregory Trading Company, the Realty Exchange and Horton's barber shop. Now, then, if Mrs. Koontz, W. S. Norton, J. A. Sour, Henry Ohlen and Walt Naylor will put in some walks, that portion of the west side of Military street between Neesho and Sheridan streets will look respectable.
